BAY ST. LOUIS, MISS., FRIDAY, MAY 19, 1933.

FORTY-SECOND YEAR, No. 20

CENTRAL HI EXERCISES AT AUDITORIUM SUNDAY FOR GRADUATING CLASS

Mrs. C. C. Clark Delivered Commencement Sermon—
Speaker Said Youth of Today Faced With More Difficult Tasks Than In Any Previous Generation

Before a large and appreciative audience last Sunday night, Mrs. C. C. Clark delivered the commencement sermon to the graduates of Bay High school. The service opened with a slow and dignified march for the entrance of the 23 seniors who were quite impressive in their caps and gowns.

Rev. J. E. Gray offered the invocation and special music was rendered by a quartette, composed of Ruth Ward, Ruth Campbell, Minnie Otis, Vivian Telhard, accompanied by Mrs. Carl Smith.

Supt. Ingram introduced Mrs. Clark who now lives in Waynesboro, Miss., but who received a warm welcome as a former resident, when her husband served the Methodist church here for four years as pastor.

Mrs. Clark brought out the fact that youth of today is faced with more difficult tasks than in any previous generation but she congratulated them because youth has never been daunted by the seemingly impossible. She contrasted the problem of former classes who have been told to invent, discover, to civilize, to bring the world closer together, whereas the job of this generation is to teach us how to live together as decent neighbors ought to live—a problem of life itself and of human relationships.

"It is not yours to build great industrial structures, greater banking systems or set up more machinery, your problem is to learn how to handle what we have. We do not need greater banks, greater industries," said Mrs. Clark, "but we are in desperate need of greater men and women to run what we have. A year ago, even, I would have had to prove this by theory but today it is obvious to the most casual observer."

She spoke of the need for a new emphasis and vitality in education, taking it off the materialistic plane, where colleges used as the principal inducement to students, the increased salary one might expect.

Open-mindedness and a spirit of intelligent adventure are requisites of youth but the jails are filled with young people who have these traits without the third and most important one, a vital religious faith.

This great factor in youth's equipment will give him, first, courage to face his responsibilities, for side stepping one's moral responsibility is one of the chief causes of our disaster—second, it will give one the proper conception of his worth. Even though one is not a producer, he is a consumer, a demanded and in such measure, shapes the product and influences the demand. The greatest tragedy in many lives is loving something cheap, something low.

Third, a vital religious faith will interpret sacrifice in a proper way, not as one gives up pleasure for duty but as one gives up what one might have been for something trivial. That is costly living.

Fourth, it will give one the courage to meet his problems even though one feels handicapped by the lack of some ability. The history of progress after all, has been the biography of men and women who have taken their second or tenth best and made something of it.

Mrs. Clark developed her theme of "Youth and The New Deal" with numerous illustrations and stories and many of her attentive listeners declared it the most timely, well-developed address they had ever heard.

HONORS TO MISS

MARY ELBA MARSHALL
OF BAY ST. LOUIS.

A New Orleans print says the annual banquet of the Alpha Omicron Pi sorority was held on Thursday at the Orleans Club. Miss Mary Elba Marshall officiated as toast mistress.

The Pledge cup was presented by Miss Evelyn Nix to Miss Sidney Mize. Honorable mention for this cup was received by Misses Adena, Cleo Scott and Janice Terre. The Scholarship cup was presented by Miss Marion Moise to Miss Mary Elba Marshall. Miss Marietta Griffin presented the president's ring to Miss Virginia Rembert. The ring for the highest grade in the fraternity was presented by Miss Beverly Walton to Miss Nel Robertson and Miss Mary Elba Marshall.

Miss Marshall is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Marshall, of Bay St. Louis, who completed her high school studies at Bay High and from there matriculated at Newcomb, each year winning high and distinctive honors. Bay St. Louis is naturally proud of one who has scored so successfully.

SCHARFF OBSERVES BIRTHDAY

Second Anniversary of Main Street I. G. A. Today—
Doubles Floor Space
And Stock

Today, May 19, is the second anniversary of Jos. R. Scharff's I. G. A. Store in Main street and for this event an "anniversary sale" is in progress. All prices are marked down for this week-end and visitors to the store will find plenty of stock, selections and prices to suit the most conservative buyers and leanest purses. "This sale," said Mr. Scharff, "has been planned for several weeks and in order to meet former low prices I purchased from a number of jobbers some time back in order to make this a real sale. Advanced prices will take a back seat for this sale. I have no strings attached to the items advertised except I reserve the right to limit purchases. Customers will not have to buy other merchandise to get the advertised prices."

Mr. Scharff came to Bay St. Louis two years ago from Memphis, experienced in his line of business. He bought the stock of L. B. Capdepon who was conducting a store at the corner and by means of steady strides of success was by the end of the first year able to enlarge his store. Now it is double the size of floor space and has four times over the amount of stock.

Mr. Scharff is a valued citizen, affiliated with civic and other enterprises and every movement for the uplifting and betterment of the community.

POPPY DAY SATURDAY MAY 27TH

To Be Observed in Hancock County Under Auspices
Ladies' Auxiliary.

Bay St. Louis will observe "Poppy Day" this year on May 27, the Saturday before Memorial Day, it has been announced by Mrs. Laurence Dickson chairman of the poppy committee of Clement R. Bontemps Unit of the American Legion Auxiliary. The Unit is making extensive preparations for the observance of the day and is hoping for the full cooperation of all other organizations and individuals.

Memorial poppies, to be worn in honor of the World War dead, will be made available to everyone in the city by volunteer workers from the Auxiliary Unit. Organization of the workers is going forward rapidly under Mrs. Dickson's direction and the Unit expects to have its "poppy girls" in all parts of the down town district throughout the day. The flowers for the sale have been ordered from Gulfport, where they have been made by disabled World War veterans.

"Poppy Day" is the day for personal tribute to the men who lost their lives in the country's service. "It is a day when all can show that they still remember and honor the sacrifices made by those who defended America during the great war crisis, and that they are carrying on for America in time of peace. The poppy is a patriotic symbol which means honor for the dead and service for the living."

"No price will be asked for the American Legion Auxiliary poppies. The Auxiliary wants everyone to wear a poppy and to contribute for the flower according to his means. All contributions will be used for relief work among the disabled veterans and their families, the bulk of the money going to support the relief activities of our local Auxiliary Unit among needy families in this city."

—St. Stanislaus College faculty has already completed plans for the usual Summer Camp with many added features for the approaching season.

NEW REEF FOR BAY ST. LOUIS

Seafood Commission Begins
Work of Planting 20,000
Barrels Shells.

Work was started Monday morning of "planting" 20,000 barrels oyster shells over an area between L. & N. R. R. drawbridge southward toward Waveland comprising a space of one mile by two miles long with a view of starting a new oyster reef. This is the first reef of a series of reefs to be started by the Commission. It is planned to have this section of Coast waters as prolific as other points, especially since it is found that oysters will grow to advantage in this section of bay and sound waters. This will compare in time with the famous Pass Christian reefs and Waveland reefs as well. The idea is to add to propagation possibilities and to have an augmented supply of oysters for local trade and for shipping as well.

It is the intention of the Seafood Commission, of which R. N. Blaize is the wide-awake and progressive president, to provide for an ample supply of oysters from local waters; to have the supply in abundance in order to be able to meet all requirements and to increase only consumption of the delicious bivalves the Coast waters are known for but to expand trade as well.

The commission is very hopeful and following a recently-adopted program of expansion it is easy to foresee the intention will be carried out both to realization and fruition.

MUSICIANS FROM MOBILE INDUSTRIAL HOME VISIT HERE

Famous Boys' Band Gives
Concert at Stanislaus College on Mothers' Day, Afternoon.

In observance of Mothers' Day, members of the Boys' Band from "Industrial Gardens," Mobile, visited Bay St. Louis Sunday and during afternoon hours gave a band concert at Stanislaus Hall to a fair-sized and appreciative audience.

This band is composed of orphans and had the distinction of entertaining guests of the Presidential Inauguration banquet, March 4, at Washington. Bro. Florimand, S. C., former teacher at St. Stanislaus, held the baton and under his direction the youthful musicians rendered a varied program with all the ability and success of advanced musicians. Several of their compositions were far above the average, in fact, for professionals and elicited favorable comment. The band was directed by Prof. J. Tavernier, former director of the University of Alabama, who accompanied the young gentlemen.

The community owes a debt of thanks to President Bro. William and the faculty of St. Stanislaus that made it possible to hear this unusually splendid band and its excellent music.

Mr. Edmund Fahey, Jr., announced the different numbers and gave the name and history or some pertinent comment of each of the composers and in a style that added to the affair.

The program was published in full in last week's issue of The Echo.

Mrs. P. J. Boudin Successful Growing Logan Berry Crop

Mrs. Boudin, whose place in Third street is always of interest because of the various things planted and successfully cultivated on her premises. At present there are long rows of vine producing the famous Logan berry, a rival to other berries, comparatively new and used to advantage for the table either in natural or cooked style and excellent for the natural juices extracted therefrom. The berries are large and palatable and healthful.

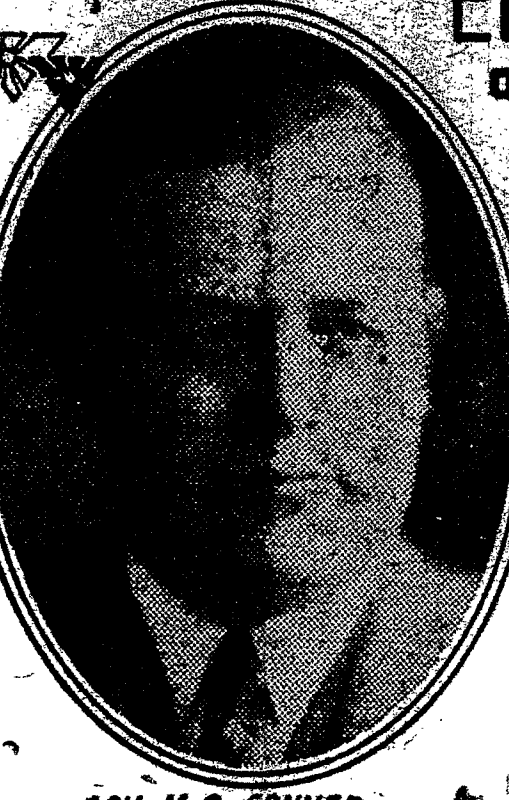

Mrs. Boudin has a large supply and will sell in any quantity for family or other uses.

Benefit Picnic Without a Basket Novely For May 27

A picnic without a basket is a lot more fun than a basket without a picnic.

If you don't believe it come out to Allen's Farm on May 27th and see. As usual the Woman's Missionary Society is doing something different. If you give them 25c they'll give you a real picnic lunch at an ideal picnic place with a day of picnic fun. Time: May 27. Place: Allen's Farm.

MISSISSIPPI COMMISSION CENTURY OF PROGRESS

GOV. M. S. CONNER,
CHAIRMAN, EX-OFFICIO

E. H. BRADSHAW
CHAIRMAN

SECY OF STATE WALKER WOOD

COM. OF AGRI. J. C. HOLTON

THE Mississippi Commission pictured above is in charge of the Mississippi Exhibit at the World's Fair in Chicago this summer. Members of the Commission recently returned from Chicago where the Mississippi space in the Exposition was inspected and accepted.

While in Chicago, the Commission perfected plans with Fair officials for "Mississippi Day" which will be an outstanding event of the Exposition. "Mississippi Day" will be held in September. The Exposition opens June 1st and will continue until November 1st.

Fair officials, upon being informed of the detailed plans of the Mississippi Exhibit, expressed the opinion that it would be among the best of the State exhibits to be shown. All is in readiness at the Mississippi booth, the exhibit material having arrived by special car and the installation will be completed in good time before the formal opening. Present indications are that Mississippi will be the first state to complete its exhibit.

The Mississippi Commission also completed arrangements with prominent ex-Mississippians now living in Chicago, for the formation of a Mississippi Society. This organization will assist Mississippians to find comfortable quarters during the Fair and extend courtesies and hospitality to Mississippi visitors in Chicago.

The Mississippi Century of Progress Commission is serving without pay as a patriotic duty to the State and are deserving of great credit for the commendable work they are doing to sell Mississippi to the world.

PLAN OF GOVERNOR CONNER MUST AWAIT U. S. APPROVAL

Mississippi Reforestation
Flood Control Program
Up to U. S.

A conference held at Jackson Monday, between Governor Conner, J. J. McEntee, personal representative of Director Fehner, who is in charge of the Roosevelt forestry program, and State Forester Merrill developed the fact that the ambitious reforestation-flood control project in the Yazoo-Tallahatchie basins, as sponsored by Governor Conner, will have to be submitted to President Roosevelt personally for his approval and cannot be thus submitted until the state obtains certain agreements from the landowners, these agreements to include obedience to strict Federal requirements and regulations.

The proposed project would employ 25,000 men in seven Delta counties and would include reforestation of the watersheds to stop erosion and check floods. All the land involved is privately owned.

Before the project can be submitted to President Roosevelt the state must assume responsibility for maintenance of works by landowners or otherwise and must obtain contracts with landowners giving the state the right to remove at its option, without recompense to the landowners, any structures or other things of movable value, which may result from the work done, including products of trees planted to arrest erosion.

Landowners also would have to agree not to start fires within 100 feet of grasslands or forests without a state permit, to fight fire without pay, to obtain state permits before clearing any land and to maintain terraces. They also would have to pay a tax of one cent per acre, to be levied by boards of supervisors, for fire protection.

Another Federal "policy" or regulation specifies that before approving projects on land owned by state, or municipality, assurance from the Governor is required that he will urge the Legislature at its next session to enact legislation providing that if, as a result of the work done, the state derives a direct profit from the sale of the land or its products, the profits will be divided equally between the state and Federal government until the state will have paid for the work done at the rate of one dollar per day for the time

WOMAN'S MISSIONARY SOCIETY HOLDS MEET OF UNUSUAL INTEREST

Opening Prayer By Mrs. C.
C. Clark, Former Resident
And President—Program.

The Woman's Missionary Society met on Tuesday at the residence of Mrs. Eugene Davis with Mrs. Joyner and Mrs. Koch as joint hostesses.

The society had the extreme pleasure of having as their guest Mrs. C. C. Clark a former member and resident who gave the opening prayer.

The devotion was led by Miss Ruth Schreck the subject being "The Unity of the Church," taken from 1st Cor. 12:18-27.

The topic "Our Deaconesses and the Church" was ably discussed by Mrs. C. M. Shipp who in her usual gracious and competent manner showed us the value and Christianity of welfare work.

The closing prayer was given by the president, Mrs. Charles Mitchell. A delicious salad and ices was served after which the meeting adjourned. The next meeting to be held at the home of Mrs. Wright's home with Mrs. Mitchell as joint hostess.

Confederate Brigadier General From Mt. Olive Visits Son in Bay City

Rev. and Mrs. J. E. Gray, the former pastor Main Street Methodist Church, had as their house guest this week Mr. Gray's father, J. L. Gray, a resident of Mt. Olive, Miss., who returned to his home Thursday accompanied by his son, Rev. Gray, who returned to Bay St. Louis Thursday evening.

The distinguished visitor has a splendid war record, a brigadier general of the Southern Division, United Confederate veterans. During his stay here he visited the Soldiers' Home at Beauvoir where he was given special recognition and courtesies, his visit there a feature of his stay on the Coast.

on the projects, subject to a maximum of $3 per acre.

This Mississippi project, all on privately owned land, calls for terracing of 276,000 acres for flood control, gully control of 48,000 and fire protection for 638,000 acres.

BLAIZE RE- BUILDING PAVILION

Popular Resort and Long
Pier In Process of Rebuilding and Remodeling.

R. N. Blaize, progressive proprietor of Blaize's pier and bathing pavilion, head of Washington street, has a force of men at work practically rebuilding the pier and renovating the entire property, a step in keeping with the times and an evidence that an upturn in business is at hand.

In a week or so it will be possible for automobiles to be driven out to the end of the long pier with safety and the bathing pavilion will again this summer prove a popular resort for the many who visit and others who might reside here but have no such facilities available.

This pier is quite an acquisition to Bay St. Louis and vicinity. It is the only structure of its kind and the public will be interested to learn that it is undergoing a process of reconstruction that will again place at the disposal of all who may wish to enjoy its use. Other piers have come and gone but the Blaize structure, well-nigh an institution for this community, contributes to our success as a summer resort.

This work is assisting, in a measure, the unemployed situation and would that there were more improvement in rebuilding, repairing, painting, interior work, etc. We trust Mr. Blaize's enterprise will be well patronized this summer, as it deserves.

—Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Prague had as their house guest Sunday, Mr. Prague's mother, Mrs. Harris, of New Orleans, on the occasion of Mother's Day.

—Mrs. W. J. Kidd returned home Wednesday evening from a three-day visit to friends in New Orleans, in which city she is well known and has a circle of charming friends.

Among the many entertainments given during the past session at S. J. A. Sunday's May Festival stands preeminently.

The Bazaar began at five and the booths were patronized until seven-thirty when they began to be deserted in favor of the Gym which by eight o'clock was packed to its capacity, all present impatiently awaiting the arrival of the Queen and her maids. When the curtains were finally drawn they displayed the stage transformed into a veritable bower of roses and fern. Several girls then skipped merrily into view and declared that they had assembled to complete the decorations of the throne which had that day been erected for the girl who had been chosen Queen of the May.

Each of the Grammar Grades in turn then appeared carrying its quota of decorations for the throne and while singing and dancing made its presentation. The third and fourth grades carried Daisies and Dewdrops, the Fifth and Sixth grades lilies and roses while the tiny tots of the first two grades brought sunbeams and rain. The seventh and eighth grades were busy meanwhile preparing the throne for the Queen. The signal was given that the Queen had arrived and a lovely song of welcome went forth to meet her.

At the head of the Queen's train were two little pages in full regalia followed by twelve of the tiniest and cutest flower girls all wearing long dresses of delicate shades and carrying old fashioned bouquets.

The maids, fourteen in number, dressed in dainty gowns of pastel shades then led. Each in turn was met at the head of the stairs, leading to the stage, by the duke of her choice and from thence was escorted to her place before the throne.

The Queen, Miss Evelyn Nix, wore a lovely gown of white and from her shoulder hung a long white mantel surmounted by a sparkling collar. The Queen was preceded by a tiny little girl carrying the crown and was followed by two small pages. When the Queen reached the throne the chosen king, Mr. Bascom Talley, placed the crown upon her head and escorted her up the throne, where both the King and the Queen seated themselves amidst the general applause of the audience.

A program of six numbers was then announced by Mr. Edmund Fahey, Jr. The Program follows:

1. A Reading—Betty at the Baseball Game—Miss Delta Lizana.
2. Piano Solo—A Curious Story—Elsie Mae Capdepon.
3. Quartette—Pan—Misses Audrey Ramond, Marjorie Seafide, Elsie Mae Dillman, Elaine Chauvin.
4. Accordion Selections—Mr. Chas. Jesse, accompanied by Mr. Gerald Grevenberg.
5. Piano Solo—The Pompadour's Fan—Miss Bernice Johnson.
6. Old Fashioned Dance—Miss Eran LeBlanc, accompanied by Miss Levia Engman.

At the conclusion of the program the King and Queen and their court proceeded down the stage and marched in regal procession through the auditorium where a dance participated in the court concluded the program.

The following took part in the court.

Misses Genie Harper, Almie Hausser, Yvette Telhard, Ruth Taber, Alma Lejeune, Joyce Wolf, Louise Posner, Cynthia Richardson, Lois Wolf, Pearl Roby, Elizabeth Vincent, Elaine Richardson, Alice Camors, Theresa Linaam.

Dukes—Messrs. Jack Gray, Burch Colvert, Jimmie Kroll, Gerald Innes, Charles Thomas, John Dassel, Billie Hogg, Hugh Ryland, Johnny Heath, Charles Thomas, ohn Dassel, Billie Heath, Ainsworth Kidd, Pete Latino.

Flower Girls—Kay Ford, Udel Favre, Patricia Kehoe, Rosemary Dick, Beth Prague, Sammy Osolnach, Gayell Cox, Ruth Sauter, Rosemary Piazza, Virginia Seal, Betty Yates, Betty Osolnach.

Pages—Donald Arceneaux, Ronald Carver, Tommy Lodwick, Nellus Favre.

Crown Bearer—Julie Elliott.

—Mr. James Lovick Mitchell, who was called here by the illness and subsequent death of his mother, Mrs. Ettie Booker Mitchell, has returned to his home at Shreveport, La., and expresses appreciation to the friends and acquaintances of the family during the recent sorrow.

—Mr. Leo W. Seal spent part of the week at Jackson, Miss., attending business and mingling with friends of the Capital city where he is equally as well known as along the Gulf Coast.

WEAR THEIR FLOWER AND REAWAKEN THEIR SPIRIT.

TO AMERICA, now going forward in a great drive against the economic enemies which have invaded the country, comes a message from the men who fifteen years ago were giving their lives in defense of the country against an armed enemy. It comes in the form of the little red poppy that we will all be asked to wear on Poppy Day, May 27. It tells us to serve and sacrifice for our country now with the same patriotic spirit that those men served and died among the poppies in France in 1917 and 1918.

The poppy is a symbol of remembrance for the World War dead. Poppies glowing on every coat on Poppy Day will show that we still remember and honor the supreme sacrifice our war dead made for America. A country which remembers deeds such as theirs cannot be indifferent to present calls for patriotic service. As long as the memory of our heroes is kept bright, America can be confident that heroic service will come from its citizens in every hour of need.

The women of the American Legion Auxiliary, who will bring us the poppies on Poppy Day, are carrying out a very valuable work for the country. With their memorial flowers they are keeping alive a memory more precious than vast material riches—the memory of men who were willing to die that America might live in freedom and happiness. With the poppy contributions, they are helping carry on for the disabled veterans and fatherless families. With the poppy they are calling to us all to carry on for America in the spirit of those heroic men the flower commemorates. Every American who is a true American should show his response by wearing a poppy on Poppy Day.

ADVANCING PRICE BRINGS HOPE.

CERTAINLY the recent rise in the price of most things will bring millions of dollars into this section of the country, but more important it will restore confidence into the hearts of many men and women who have been weighed down with the burden of crushing debts.

One had feature of the entire affair, however, is the death blow which a slight improvement will deal to those who have been quite sure that everything must be scuttled and that the state, county and school districts are bankrupt. Given a reasonable increase in income the people of this section will again pay their taxes, honor their obligations and support worthwhile enterprises.

Our people have been assailed needlessly during the recent (?) depression. It has been said that the old honesty has departed, that they are dead beats and unwilling to pay what they owe. We do not believe that there has been any great deterioration of character during the recent few years. Given a chance, most of our people are honest, and they will settle up. Without a chance, those who criticize them would have done no better.

WE DON'T KNOW.

WHAT'S the matter with the gold standard? We don't know!

Why can't Europe agree to live in peace? We don't know.

Who'll pay the war debts? We don't know! Will Japan get out of China? We don't know! Is the world 3,000,000 years old? We don't know!

Are the American people in a revolutionary frame of mind? We don't know!

Will you pay up your subscription this month? We don't know!

If you have any other question that is bothering you and want an answer—We don't know!

Very likely the Navy was inwardly disturbed when it found that its share in reducing government expenditures was fifty million dollars, but those in authority took the smack with good grace, and proceeded in the exercise of good sense. About thirty percent of the vessels now in service will be laid up, but they will be docked one after another, and while out of use will be put in first class order. The Navy people certainly should be given credit for making the best of a bad situation.

People usually get rich by getting money from people who think they will get rich quick.

Congress must be out of work. A month has passed and there has been no move to investigate the price of beer.

If little taxpayers were as successful in dodging taxes as the millionaire of the land are, there would be little government bought and paid for.

Subscribers are reminded that newspapers need money every week, and those who have coin to spare can help by paying their subscription accounts promptly.

Business in Bay St. Louis depends upon the people in Bay St. Louis. If our folks insist upon spending money out of town, they insist upon building up other places.

The Department of Agriculture has done wonders, yet half has never been told, if an advertisement in a Baltimore paper can be relied upon. It reads: "Grass seed guaranteed to grow lawn mowers, $2.49."

REALTY, GULF COAST AND RETURN OF VALUES.

ONE of the first substantial signs of prosperity will necessarily be among other things, advance in value of real estate from the present depreciation to that of normal standard. We may hope for many things, they may come to past. However, one of the more substantial and potential elements marking the return of prosperity will be found in the re-establishment of realty values.

Of course, none will deny we must find employment for the army of unemployed. But realty values restored will supply the missing employment in great measure. And the unemployment situation solved naturally the matter resolves itself into the fact values will be to the front again.

WE of the Mississippi Gulf Coast depend largely on realty values. Permanent, selling and rental values. Investment in real estate along the coast represents the bulk of values. Men and women have invested their money in realty. It is well known people and others seeking investments, residing variously in all parts of the country, own coast property. Eyes from over the nation are turned to the Mississippi Gulf Coast. It is the ideal place to live—the only place. Climate, water educational and religious advantages combine to make a place to live and rear a family; to live in spending the later years of life. The land of plenty and abundance, where the sun shines brightest and skies are bluest. Where health abounds.

It is a wise man today who is taking care of his property. Who is surrounded by the music of saw and hammer. Who is remodeling and painting. For he is a good conservator. Taking care of something that, unlike stocks and other investments, has not lost its intrinsic value and completely wiped away. On the contrary, while the market value has to an extent vanished the true value remains and will come into its own sooner or later. Realty is one that will accelerate with the return of normal times.

BUSINESS IS IMPROVING.

THE daily news begins to include stories of advancing prices, increased wages, better buying and a spreading confidence among business men of all types that the worst is over and that the nation is surely treading the path that leads around the corner, where prosperity has been hiding for many months.

No trend was ever more favorably received by a people. We have anxiously scanned the statistical reports, the index figures and the currency circulation for many moons, eagerly looking for a break in the downward movement that has brought the entire nation to the brink of absolute ruin. At last, it appears to be real, although the gains so far recorded do nothing more than recoup a small portion of recent losses.

A GAIN there seems to be born a buying spirit, a belief that it will be profitable to invest in commodities—upon which must rest all hope of better days. The people of Bay St. Louis are conscious of advances in what they buy and they also see an upward trend in the price of what they have to sell.

No one must expect the foolish boom days. The Mississippi Gulf Coast was hit hardest in this respect than elsewhere, excepting Florida, and this has perhaps caused more losses than the general effect of depression.

Few desire their return. Rather do we hope for a stabilization of values somewhere between the absurd peak of so-called prosperity and the low valley of the painful past. To obtain this end it is vitally necessary that our dollar have a stability, not necessarily in gold weight, but in purchasing power. The economists will have to figure it out, but sooner or later civilized peoples will relegate to the junk pile all currency systems that are subject to absurd fluctuations in purchasing power.

NOT THE END.

DURING the next few weeks many young people will graduate from high school or college, not to be bothered with systematic studying again. We want to caution these young people that a diploma should not be the end of mental exercise. They should continue to study to learn new things, and to keep up with an ever-changing environment.

Heyward Brown, newspaper columnist, recently had something to say along similar lines. He lamented what he called "a terminus in the process of education," and said:

"That notion is fostered by our academic customs. The colleges hand a sheepskin to an impressionable young man, and tell him he is a Bachelor of Arts. That gives him the impression that in some way he is through, and that he need never admit one other new idea into his head."

"We even speak of certain institutions for the inculcation of culture into young women as 'finishing schools.' As if graduation carried with it the sanctity of finality. But I wouldn't call it a sanctity. It should more properly be a stigma. I can not think of any branch of learning in which men should be encouraged to mourners' row with Alexander, and weep because there are no more worlds to conquer."

"It is true that the Bachelor may return to his university to become a Master of Arts or a Doctor of Philosophy, but even then he is a fool if he regards himself as finished. Einstein still looks through telescopes in search of some star which may lie a little beyond the farthest."

$60,000 TO UPHOLD THE LAW.

THE majesty of the law has been "upheld" in Massachusetts by the payment of a ransom, said to have been $60,000, to secure the safe return of a little girl, kidnapped from school Tuesday of this week.

Her father, torn with grief, placed himself at the mercy of the brutal abductors, met their terms and saved his little daughter. He is not to be censured for doing this.

It is bad enough for men to resort to crime but civilized people place the kidnapping of a little child a bit beyond other crimes. No punishment can be too swift or too severe for the person guilty of such an assault.

SAUNTERINGS From Where The West Begins.

By JOHN T. MEYERS
(For the Sea Coast Echo)

THE terrifying screech of rubber skidding on pavement. Wham. Metal striking metal with crashing force. A large drayage truck and snappy sport roadster ram together at a busy, downtown street corner. The driver of the smaller car unquestionably at fault.

Out hops the truckman, raging, and in a belligerent mood. A crowd quickly gathered to watch developments.

"Say, you dumb mug. Watsa big idea? I gotta good notion to knock your block off. Git outta that tug, or I'll yank you by the neck."

Meekly, the other driver was too angry to hear, or see other than red. Just as the big fellow was drawing back to land a blow, an unusual performance took place. The roadster driver sat on the curb... bursting into hysterical tears and sobbing.

For despite closely cropped hair, mannish coat, trousers, hat, shirt, and tie... this driver was a woman in distress. When the deception was revealed, the crowd roared in amusement.

The bewildered truck driver stood frozen in his tracks. For a brief second he scratched his head. He seemed unable to decide on proper amends to offer this lady in disguise.

"Well, I'll be blunkety blank!" was the best he could do, so he swung back to his truck, glad to quit the scene.

The jeers of the crowd followed him out of sight. (Moral: Many a womanly heart lies beneath a mannish lapel... since Marlene shed skirts in favor of breeches.)

SPIKE is a frisky Airedale. His master owns a wholesale poultry business. Often the barn fowls escape from coops, and make a wild dash for liberty. Their freedom soon ends when Spike gets the signal, "Chicken out. Get 'em Spike."

Hard on the trail of the feathered fugitive goes this faithful dog. Grabbing the squawking chicken by a wing, Spike returns it to his boss. He has never injured his catch.

As pay for his important daily tasks Spike asks only an encouraging pat on the head. If this formality is unintentionally neglected, Spike looks quizzically up into his master's face and barks... demanding his humble reward.

Stray dogs and cats have no place in Spike's life. He means to be the "big shot" in his territory. And Spike is dog enough to hold his own.

NOTE book jottings on San Antonio's west side. First sliced watermelon stand of season noted Saturday afternoon on congested sidewalk of Mexican shopping center. Not quite red-tint, but selling nevertheless. Watermelon is candillo (pronounced san-doya) in Mexican language. Numerous Chinese grocery stores in this section of city. These shrewd almond-eyed merchants enjoy large Mexican trade. During business hours, the sing song tone of their native tongue is cleverly discarded. They speak Mexican as fluently as the Mexican customers... gestures included.

NO high sign necessary to purchase lottery tickets. Several Chinese lottery companies operating here. Foxy, pasty faced, crooked card and dice game dealers, lying in wait to spot easy marks from the ranches enjoying the bright lights of the city. Makeshift eating places every few steps along the sidewalks. Tantalizing odors of chili, and other Mexican foods simmering over charcoal or mesquite fires.

SENIORAS, adorned in pictureque mantillas, squatting on the curbing besides baskets filled with tomatoes, enchiladas, tortillas, and Mexican cactus candy. Gatherings of Mexican men always to be found loitering on plaza opposite Santa Rosa hospital, suggests embryonic revolution. ... lacking only a fiery general leader astride prancing steed, flourishing glittering sword, and challenging, "Viva la revolucion!" to complete the picture.

BRIGHTLY rouged señoritas, cigarrettes in hand, slouch in dingy, doorways, casting amorous come hither glances. Their paramours nearby offering for sale whiskey and beer in filthy little alley dens. A small child struggling to drink pint size red soda pop. This big, nickel drink popular with Mexicans. Poorer families divide one bottle among several children.

SAN ANTONIO'S plazas by night. Unforgettable, romantic, and fascinating to the tourist and resident as well. Mexican street singers, accompanied by strumming guitars, serenaded with fervent, Spanish love songs. Flickering bonfires. Babble of a foreign language. Exotic customs. San Antonio, one of three American cities brilliant in display of quaint, realistic atmosphere. Adios, amigos.

A great thing has occurred amongst us. We have made a complete turn-around, and at last America's face is toward the future.

Three years---1929 to 1932---we Americans looked backward. All our old financial and political machinery was geared to pull us out of the depression by the same door through which we entered. We thought it simply a case of going back the way we came. It failed. We now realize that the way out is forward---through it.

Thanks for that belongs to President Roosevelt. Inauguration Day he turned the Ship of State around. Having observed the failure of sincere efforts to haul us back the way we came, he designed a new method---new political and financial machinery---to pull us out the way we are going---forward. He is clearing international obstacles out of the way; he does not stand in awe of tariffs. The people begin to feel that he does not take advice from the "interests"; that he has courage and loyalty to work for one supreme interest only---the welfare of the American people. That is a big achievement for two months in office.

• And now we all look to what is coming; we grow less and less concerned with what is behind. We are looking for a hand-hold on the haul rope. Every man wants to do what he can, and all he can.

The best thing I can do for the Country is to create industry by building good motor cars. If I knew anything better to do, I would do it. Industry must be my contribution. Motor cars must face ahead to the future, like everything else. They are so much a part of the Nation's daily life that if they lag behind they hold the Country back.

HARRISON CO. BOARD

NOT TO BE HARASSED BY TAX-PAYERS LEAGUE

Supervisors Will Stand on Law and Order in Answer to Lawyer Galloway's Threat—Board's Attorney, Lee Guice, Replies.

Harrison county, like most counties, is not all in Mississippi and elsewhere, is not only suffering from the necessity of paying interest and redeeming bonds issued in the past and prior to the economic upheaval, has been forced to run its tax-levy to the extent that the burden is well-nigh confiscatory.

Accordingly, recently there was organized in Harrison county a taxpayers league, to which no one consistently opposes, and the league, through its attorney, has made known its mandates that seemingly, in view of present conditions, cannot be met. Bonds must be redeemed, interests paid, labor and necessary maintenance of governmental affairs taken care and the many legitimate demands must be met. But the league it appears has asked for retrenchment that the board replies to the demand would be disastrous in more ways than one, to say nothing of paralyzing the county's business and injuring its credit.

The Pass Christian Tarpon, published at the home of Hon. E. J. Adams, president of board of Harrison county supervisors, carrying the following interesting correspondence and comment interesting and worthy of personal for the information it carries and is herewith reproduced for taxpayers of other counties who might be interested.

The Harrison county board of Supervisors, which body replied to a petition from the Taxpayers League of this county, in a statement given the League for its meeting last Saturday at the county courthouse. The Supervisors therein stated what they would do and could or could not do under the law, with certain requests made. The report from the Board was rejected by the League and following that meeting J. F. Galloway, general counsel of the Taxpayers' League, sent the following letter to Eustis McManus, county auditor.

Gulfport, May 9, 1933.

Mr. Eustis McManus,

County Auditor, Gulfport, Miss.

Dear Sir—I have been instructed by the Taxpayers League of Harrison county to advise you, as county auditor, that the League has determined to enforce the provisions of the petitions presented to the Board of Supervisors of Harrison county, during their April meeting, signed by approximately fifty-seven hundred taxpayers, being more than fifty percent of the qualified electors of the county which were presented under the provisions of Section 310 of the Mississippi Code of 1930.

The petitions were adopted by the Board of Supervisors in due time and without having submitted the same to an election, the only other alternative. The provisions of these petitions therefore the law governing the action of the Board of Supervisors as to the matter contained.

The purpose of this letter, under the order of the board of directors of the Taxpayers League is to give you and the board an opportunity to prevent any expenditures of public funds contrary to these propositions in said petitions thereby producing personal liability to you and the members of the board, as well as the sureties on your bonds.

With personal regards, I am,

J. F. GALLOWAY,

General Counsel of Taxpayers' League.

"SWEEPINGS" SHOWS FAMILY UNDERMINED BY PROSPERITY

Lionel Barrymore Is Starred In a Tremendous Realistic Drama of American Life

Lionel Barrymore, starring at the A. & G. Theater Sunday and Monday in RKO-Radio Pictures' "Sweepings," a powerful, elaborately staged epic of social, financial and family life, considers his characterization a timely warning to American parents.

The actor gives a striking portrayal of an ambitious father who makes millions for his children, only to find that they fail him under the spell of too much luxury.

"I hope my role will awaken parents to the danger in the all too common practice of pampering boys and girls," said the star.

"The inevitable effect of luxury, as is shown in this story, is boredom and an appetite for dissipation and thrills.

In support of the star are Gloria Stuart, Eric Linden, and William Gagan, who give excellent performances as his wayward children. Miss Stuart sells her birthright for a brief year of excitement, while the sons use the fruits of their father's toil to grease the skids down which they slide to sorrow.

Others in the cast are Alan Dinehart, Ninetta Sunderland, Gregory Ratoff, George Meekes, Lucan Littlefield and many other equally well-known players. John Cromwell directed.

The production presents a parade of lavish settings, including many famous play-places of Europe and America, the interior of gay gambling places of the nineties, and one mammoth setting depicting the ruins of Chicago after the great fire of 1871.

SUES TOWN OF PASS CHRISTIAN

Sam Meyers, of Pass Christian, has filed a suit against that city for $5000 for injuries to himself and wife resulting from a wreck of his car, some time ago, when it skidded on Front street, and ran into the Nola apartment building.

The production presents a parade of lavish settings, including many famous play-places of Europe and America, the interior of gay gambling places of the nineties, and one mammoth setting depicting the ruins of Chicago after the great fire of 1871.

ministering the county affairs, within the law and to make such retrenchments in expenditures as within their power. After full and careful consideration of all the angles of the subject at issue, as well as the threat of suit, with their attorney, Mr. Lee Guice, who is recognized as a legal counselor of high standing and ability, addressed the following reply to the letter of Mr. Galloway:

Supervisor's Reply

May 10, 1933.

Hon. J. F. Galloway,

General Counsel of the Taxpayers League,

Dear Mr. Galloway—Your letter of May 9th, 1933, addressed to Eustis McManus, county auditor and clerk of this board, has been received and carefully considered by this board.

You are advised in reply thereto that the petition filed by the Taxpayers League was carefully considered by this board in duty to your League and to the citizens and Taxpayers of Harrison county, Miss.

This petition shows, and you know that many of the items in the petition could not be legally allowed and your letter threatening a suit against the members of this board is only expressive of your intention to pursue the members of this board rather than to assist in relieving the burden of taxation in this county.

This board being elected by the votes of the people of Harrison county have a legal duty to perform which cannot be surrendered to you or anyone else, and therefore they cannot allow you to direct the affairs of this county. The board and the individual members thereof know of no violation of law by them, and therefore are unafraid of any suit you might bring against the board or individual members of same, as all allowances heretofore made have been in the opinion of this board, been legally made for legal purposes.

The board does not feel that the taxpayers of this county would want them to do anything in violation of existing contracts or that would injure orderly government in this county at this time.

Yours truly,

Board of Supervisors of Harrison County, Miss.

The supervisors have expressed their intention to pursue an economical policy in administering the affairs of the county, no matter what steps may be taken by others.

The expenditures of the county have been reduced materially during the past two years, they state, and this policy will be continued, wherever possible.

In the matter of making levies for payment of bonds and interest thereon the Supervisors point out that this heavy burden was put on the taxpayers by themselves and under the law the Supervisors are compelled to make the necessary levies therefor.

Propositions to refund the bonds are being considered by the Board, and if such can be done as to offer relief to the taxpayers, and not to place additional burdens upon them, as some refunding schemes would result in, the supervisors will eagerly avail themselves of the opportunity to grant such relief as every member of the Board realizes that expenditures of the county must be kept within the receipts of revenue and they assert it is their intention to arrive at such a condition within the law.

WAVELAND SCHOOL COMMENCEMENT.

Our school will close for the term on Tuesday May 23. Exercises will be held in school auditorium at 8 P. M.

St. Claire church is now being painted, a large force of men are on the work.

Dr. Ratteau is having a pier and bath house built. Mr. Jules Favre is in charge.

Mr. J. Mocklin is erecting an ornamental iron trellis over his driveway.

Mrs. Warren Turner of New Orleans is visiting her mother, Mrs. R. J. Hubbard, Jeff Davis avenue.

Mr. Berghdahl and his Waveland troupe will go on a hike and camping trip.

Friends of Mrs. J. W. Ahrens will be pleased to learn that she is at home, entirely recovered from recent spell of sickness.

Capt. and Mrs. Rice with their charming daughter were over for the week end.

Mrs. W. Johns after spending a few days here, has returned to New Orleans.

Mr. and Mrs. Stouse entertained quite a large house party at their beach home.

Not only encouraged by increased patronage but in preparation for the active summer and early fall season and at the same time wishing to expand their business, the Shell Service Station, B. Moran, proprietor, has an additional building to the rear in course of construction that will take care of more business. The building is of considerable size and substantially built, with concrete floor. Cars will be taken care in future quickly and with facilities guaranteeing thorough service. This business is one of the recent acquisitions to Coleman avenue business section.

A trip north of Waveland to the attractive summer home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Chalona, on Clermont beach, reveals one of the more attractive gardens seemingly to be blooming at best. Pink and red rambler roses supported by the front fence and trellis works are at their supreme moment of beauty and color and many of the plants that Mrs. Chalona has attentively planted and given loving care are blooming. This comparative new garden is an example to others who would enhance their home and at value. The Chalona villa is for rent this season as the family will spend the summer with relatives in Chicago on the occasion of the Century of Progress Fair.

Mr. Rudy T. O'Dwyer, who spends his summer, accompanied by his family on the Waveland beach, has a force of men completing a thorough renovation of the waters of the Sound and the far-off Gulf horizon. The asphalted slates of the roof have been painted into a shade of unusual green combining with the canary and white shades of the house. This splendid paint job was preceded by placing the property in thorough order and shape.

Mr. O'Dwyer and family are especially fond of the Bay-Waveland section and repeatedly prove this. They plan to be out from New Orleans for the summer within the next few days. Would that there were more boosters of this section.

Mr. Chas. Sauer is making extensive repairs to his home on Coleman avenue, fences, concrete walks, etc.

Mrs. W. J. Montgomery is visiting her sister, Mrs. Baines of Dallas, Texas.

Mrs. B. Penrose has returned home after spending a few days as houseguest of her friend, Mrs. Walter Claiborne at her beautiful plantation home near Morganza, La.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Monroe spent the week end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Rappel.

Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Mocklin and family were over from New Orleans getting things ready for the summer.

Waveland baseball team vs. Ocean Springs, Sunday, May 21. Sears avenue park.

We have been informed that Mrs. (Dr.) George Herman and family who have been spending the past two years in Arizona are now on the way

NOTICE OF SUBSTITUTED TRUSTEE'S SALE OF LAND

STATE OF MISSISSIPPI,

COUNTY OF HANCOCK.

Whereas, on the 6th day of November, 1929, E. J. Bowers and Lula G. Bowers became and were indebted to the Interstate Trust & Banking Company in the sum of $3500.00; said indebtedness being evidenced by a certain promissory note of said date, being in the said sum of $3500.00 and maturing one year after date, and,

Whereas, the said E. J. Bowers and Lula G. Bowers in order to secure the payment of said note in accordance with its terms did execute and deliver to said Bank, with said note, a certain deed of trust recorded in volume 25, pages 155-157 of the records of mortgages and deeds of trust on lands of Hancock county, Mississippi, in which said deed of trust as security for the payment of said note and indebtedness, thereby evidenced the said E. J. Bowers and Lula G. Bowers, conveyed and warranted unto Dorman C. Corkern, as Trustee, all and singular those lands lying and being situated in the Third Ward of the Town of Waveland, Hancock County, Mississippi, and more particularly described as follows, to-wit:

Lots number one hundred and thirty (130), one hundred and thirty-one (131), one hundred and thirty-two (132), and one hundred and thirty-three (133) of the Third Ward of the Town of Waveland, Hancock County, Mississippi, and map made by E. S. Drake, and filed in the office of the Clerk of the Chancery Court of Hancock County, Mississippi, on July 6th, 1905.

Being the identical land acquired by Lula G. Bowers from E. J. Bowers by deed dated June 27th, 1925, and recorded in book D-7, at pages 340-341 of the records of deeds of Hancock County, Mississippi, and being also the identical land conveyed by Joseph F. Cazeneuve, Special Commissioner to Eaton J. Bowers by deed dated August 26th, 1895, and recorded in Book T at pages 162-164 of the records of deeds of Hancock County, Mississippi.

Whereas, said note remains unpaid in whole and in part and the said deed of trust unsatisfied and uncancelled, and,

Whereas, by the terms and provisions of said deed of trust, full authority is given unto the said Interstate Trust & Banking Company to appoint at will another substituted trustee, to act in place and stead of said Dorman C. Corkern, all power and authority to act as was conferred upon the said Dorman C. Corkern, and,

Whereas, in pursuance of the authority and privilege granted in said deed of trust, the said Interstate Trust & Banking Company did, on the Sixth day of May, 1933, by instrument of writing of said date, recorded in volume 27, on pages 549-550, of the records of mortgages and deeds of trust on land in Hancock County, Mississippi, appoint the undersigned Chas. W. Hogan, as substituted trustee in said deed of trust in place and stead of said Dorman C. Corkern.

Therefore, I, the undersigned, the said Chas. W. Hogan, being thereto requested by the said Interstate Trust & Banking Company, as substituted Trustee in full power and authority to act in satisfaction of said past due indebtedness thereby secured, during lawful hours, on will sell at public auction and outcry, the above described lands and property to the highest and best bidder for cash, before the front door of the courthouse of Hancock County, Mississippi, in the City of Bay St. Louis.

As witness my signature hereto affixed, upon the date of first publication of this notice, being the 12th day of May, 1933.

CHAS. W. HOGAN,

Substituted Trustee.

—The Very Rev. A. J. Gmelch was the guest of Rt. Rev. R. Canon Carra at New Orleans on Thursday.

—Attorney Robert L. Genin was a visitor to New Orleans Wednesday on professional business.

—Fr. Nelius Downing was the guest of the Jesuit Fathers at New Orleans on Wednesday.

—The city will have an excellent choice for the mayoral office between Col. Apperson and Mr. John O'Keefe.

—The numerous Bay friends of Hon. John J. Kennedy, Mayor of Biloxi rejoice in his appointment as Federal Revenue Collector. Our sincere congratulations.

—The Rev. Frank Quinn who was a resident here many months, was cordially greeted by many friends during a brief visit on Wednesday.

—Mr. and Mrs. Sam Jewett and family and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Jewett of New Orleans, have leased the Mary villa, corner Beach Boulevard and Dunbar avenue and are spending a while on the gulf shores.

—Mrs. P. Jenks spent Mother's Day at New Orleans visiting at the home of her son, Mr. John Jenks.

—Mrs. Jenks and their three attractive children, the latter forming the subjects of a handsome photograph picture which was presented Mrs. Jenks on the occasion.

—W. A. Elliott, new editor and publisher of the Sidell Sun, (La.) accompanied by his son, Kenneth and Mr. and Mrs. George Grant of New Orleans, motored to Bay St. Louis for the day Sunday and visited at the home of his brother, Mr. L. S. Elliott and family, Union street.

—Mr. and Mrs. Paul V. Joubert, recently married in this city, returned last week-end from their bridal trip over Florida and have gone to Lafayette, La., where they will reside in future.

—Mrs. Joubert before her marriage was Miss Genevieve Green.

—Dr. and Mrs. J. C. Buckley returned home Monday morning from Enterprise, Miss., where they spent Sunday with the Doctor's mother on the occasion of Mother's Day. They visited Meridian before coming home, making the trip to and fro by motor from one day to the next. Dr. and Mrs. Buckley are anticipating an early visit from Mrs. Buckley, Sr., within the next week or ten days for an indefinite period.

—Messrs. N. Dick and S. M. Fuchich, Sr., have taken the local agency for Ness Products of Biloxi and are getting ready to open their place in the Levine Bldg., formerly occupied by Piggly-Wiggly store, possibly this week. In addition to the retail trade wholesale trade will be served as well from the local depot of the Biloxi firm's products.

—Mrs. C. C. Clark, former resident of this city now residing at Waynesboro, Miss., where Rev. Dr. Clark is in charge of the First Methodist church, came down to the coast latter part of last week and delivered the baccalaureate address to Bay High school graduates Sunday evening.

—While here Mrs. Clark is dividing her time as house guest of Mrs. (Dr.) James A. Evans and more lately of Mrs. C. C. McDonald, both of South Beach Boulevard.

—Mr. Peter Tudury, well-known Bay St. Louisian, will on Sunday celebrate his seventy-fifth birthday, an event worthy of note since he is so widely and favorably known to the citizenry of both city and county.

—Mr. Tudury has been connected with the Hancock County Bank for the past thirty-five years, a most valued attaché, and is an assistant cashier at the parent bank in Bay St. Louis.

—He is a native of this city and was educated at St. Stanislaus College. He is one of the local dilettes of Isaac Walton, a champion "500" player and fond of the movies. All of his time otherwise is devoted to his banking duties. He will celebrate his diamond natal anniversary with Mrs. Tudury and their splendid family at their home in Main street, the flower-embowered homestead.

The fact that there is considerable property innovation and some building going on around town is indicative of a move for better times and of solving the unemployed. Dealers in building material, paint, etc., report an upward turn in business. There appears no better time to build and improve than the present with all costs at low ebb. An early advance is seemingly inevitable.

A feature of Tuesday night's variety entertainment, at convent gym, benefit Episcopal Guild and Municipal Band—one of the many—was the appearance of Prof. Pate and his two talented daughter, Mrs. Foster and Miss Myrtle Pate, who appeared on the program in piano and violin numbers. Prof. Pate, a resident here many years ago, was glad to be back home again as he expressed it from the stage and was given a warm ovation. Mr. and Mrs. Pate are visiting their daughter, Mrs. Foster at Gulfport, and will remain for the summer, after which he and his daughter Myrtle will resume their work on the Keith theatre circuit. Their son Roy is billed at Boston just now. A family of born musicians it was a treat to hear their music and pleasure to greet them again. Mrs. Pate is a sister of Mr. Murray T. Bangard of this city.

CARD OF THANKS

Wishing to express my deep appreciation for the loving kindness wonderfully expressed thoughts rendered my mother upon the sad occasion of her illness and death, I take this method of so doing and also to make known my lasting gratitude to one and all.

Thankful and grateful to one and all I wish to particularly thank—Honorable G. Y. Blaise, Mayor, Mrs. C. B. Blaise, The King's Daughters Emergency Hospital and its efficient staff, consisting of Mrs. Craft and Mrs. Cavins, Dr. C. L. Horton, Mrs. Bertha Engman, the Misses Levy and Miriam Engman, Mrs. Claud Mont, Mr. Edwin Fahey, Mrs. Irma Fahey, Mrs. Samantha Douglas, Mrs. Mabel Maynard, Mr. Tom Arnold.

I wish to thank Mr. and Mrs. Bourgeois for their kind consideration, for the heartfelt manner in which their assistance was offered; and all others who so wonderfully carried out the expressed wishes of my mother in her last days.

(Signed)
JAMES LOVICK MITCHELL,
MRS. VIRGINIA MAY MITCHELL,
LOVICK BYRON MITCHELL,
EMMA LORIMER MITCHELL,
LILLIAN YVONNE MITCHELL.

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Gex were in New Orleans during the week consulting a specialist in the interest of their young son, E. J. Junior, who has been a victim of a constant and slow fever for quite a long while. The latest examination revealed that his condition is so improved that he was practically discharged this week, and a final examination was to the effect there were no organic disturbance.

HOW SHE LOST 29 POUNDS IN 3 MONTHS

"I am using your Kruschen Salts to reduce and I've used a bottle and a half and dieted some and lost 29 pounds in 3 months. I feel so much better and intend to keep on taking the Salts as I was almost 50 pounds overweight." Mrs. Thelma Gravelly, Roseville, Calif. (Jan. 11, 1933).

To lose fat and at the same time gain in physical attractiveness and feel spirited and youthful take one half teaspoonful of Kruschen in a glass of hot water before breakfast every morning.

A jar that lasts 4 weeks costs but a trifle at any drugstore in the world but be sure and get Kruschen Salts the SAFE way to reduce wide hips, prominent front and double chin and again feel the joy of living—money back if dissatisfied after the first jar.

A Laxative that costs only 1¢ or less a dose

NEXT TIME you need medicine to act on the bowels, try Theodor's Black-Draught. It brings quick relief and is priced within reach of all. Black-Draught is one of the least expensive laxatives that you can find. A 25-cent package contains 25 or more doses. Refreshing relief from constipation troubles for only a cent or less a dose—that's why thousands of men and women prefer Theodor's Black-Draught.

—A visit to the Red Star Fish Market reveals one of the most up-to-date and sanitary places of its kind. Messrs. Colson have not only a model place from which to buy but they strive to please and always have a varied selection of seafood and make a specialty of sea delicacies not always to be found. They are located at the head of Main street, on the beach. Let them supply your Friday dinner and seafood for other days as well.

—Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Thiery, residing in St. Charles street, near beach, are complimented by many who pass by and stop at their place of domicile, attracted by beauty of the garden, particularly the roses that cover the division fences of both sides of their place. The roses are of the cluster type, brilliant in hue and cover not only the fence but foliage as well. Mrs. Thiery is a great lover of garden and flowers, gives much of her time and attention, all of which is not in vain.
